THE COASTAL SMOKEHOUSE

We've had the vision a while. This summer, we lit the fire. The smoke is our own now — every rib, every slice of brisket and pastrami, every pound of pulled pork, cooked right out back, slow and low all night while the island sleeps. We're particular, too — right down to which wood meets which cut. From the pit to the shore. And yeah, the Après Beach clambake counts — just barbecue with sand in its toes. Grab some food, pull up a chair on the patio, take it to the beach, or take it home.
